In A Matter Of Days, Barack Obama Will Cripple The United States Forever.

What's that? You haven't heard about the scheme to cripple the United States in the news? Actually, you did hear about it... but the lapdog media reported it as the UN Climate Conference.

Now... we're going to ask you to do something that might be a little difficult. If you're having some difficulty grasping what we're talking about, we're going to ask you, for a brief moment, to wipe the whole idea of climate change from your mind... as a matter of fact, wipe from your mind the entire controversy over whether man-made global warming is real or not... because it's all moot.

This recent UN Climate Conference had NOTHING to do with so-called climate change. Climate change is the cover story. In reality, it was nothing more than a global scam to take trillions of dollars out of the pockets of hard-working Americans and hand it over to UN plutocrats, third-world dictators and their political and corporate cronies.

Imagine, if you will, that Solyndra (you remember Solyndra... right?) was owned by the United Nations and instead of giving hundreds of millions of dollars to Solyndra, Barack Obama decided to give this United Nations' version of Solyndra TRILLIONS OF DOLLARS over a period of years even though he knows the money will be wasted on graft and the company will eventually go bankrupt. That's exactly what is going on here, folks. It's a massive global greenmail scheme and you're the mark.

And in a matter of days, on December 11th to be precise, Congress will submit a must-pass budget measure to Barack Obama that essentially gives him a blank check to implement this scam unless Congress stops this multi-trillion dollar UN boondoggle by attaching simple language to the upcoming omnibus spending bill that would block any funds from being used to finance the UN Green Climate Fund. But Congress is not going to do that unless they hear from you. <<http://pu.patriotupdate.com/ga/click/2-13909541-142-118245-254811-2130104-23e7bc80d9-c5d597fcb>>

Barack Obama Brought A 3 Billion Dollar Check To Paris To Grease The Skids.

Just in case you believe that we're making all of this up, Congressman Morgan Griffith and over 100 Members of Congress just sent a letter to Barack Obama and castigated him for promising to write a 3 billion dollar check to the UN Green Climate Fund without consulting Congress.

Griffith wrote: "[W]ithout the consent of Congress and despite serious domestic budget constraints, President Obama unilaterally pledged 3 billion in U.S. taxpayer funding for the Green Climate Fund."

That 3 billion dollars is just a token, good-faith payment... chump change to grease the skids... but let's not get ahead of ourselves.

Here's what the media is not reporting.

The so-called UN Green Climate Fund was initially proposed at the UN Climate Conference in Copenhagen in 2009, the precursor to the one that just concluded in Paris, and it was decided at that conference that the developed nations of the world would contribute a whopping 100 Billion dollars per year to the fund.

How much of that bill will be picked up by the United States is anyone's guess, but if current trends hold (according to the Associated Press, the United States currently contributes 5 billion of the 10 billion dollars allocated every year for other UN green initiatives), the United States could be on the hook for as much as half... or 50 Billion Dollars Per Year.

But wait... it gets worse. If you think the UN is going to be satisfied with a paltry 100 billion, think again. As Congressman Griffith stated in his letter to Barack Obama:

"The Green Climate Fund's Executive Director recently stated that estimated funding needed by developing countries would increase to $450 billion per year after 2020. The United Nations' top climate change official, Christina Figueres, has described the current goal of $100 billion as 'peanuts' and envisions trillions of dollars in spending over the next 15 years."

Trillions of dollars... and we'll be on the hook for the lion's share. Folks, the GDP of the United States is about 18 trillion dollars per year. Even if this money was going to a good cause (and it's not), there is no way we could afford to pay it. The UN Green Climate Fund will cripple our economy and transform the United States into a third-world-country.

And therein lies the rub. Call it sauce for the goose. As we said in the beginning, this UN Green Climate Fund has NOTHING to do with so-called Climate Change. It's really a scam to transfer the wealth of the United States to UN plutocrats and third-world dictators and it must be stopped.
