Robo Calls are a highly effective way to reach voters and deliver your campaign message. They work with live answers as well as answering machines.

Winning an Election is dependent on effectively delivering your message to voters. While every campaign would like to have the resources to personally canvas every neighborhood and speak to every voter. The reality is that this method reaches voters but is not efficient or cost effective.

Telephone campaigns are one of the best alternatives. They provide a communication channel to deliver your message and collect voter data, while utilizing resources effectively.

Voter Lists can be segmented in several ways in order to meet your campaign needs.

- Regional lists that divide the country into 4 regional districts
- State lists which includes all 50 states
- Counties, cities and even small towns

Each list can be segmented to cover the campaign region so your lists only contain the voters you need to reach. This provides a cost effective way to reach specific voters with your campaign message.

Voter Lists are used for:

- Delivering your Campaign Message
- Fundraising efforts
- Volunteer Campaigns
- Surveys and political polls
