

City Delivery Starts Today At Edgewold

The State 3-1-41
The Edgewold postoffice did business yesterday for the last time. City delivery service will begin this morning for residents of the section, which includes Gonzales Gardens.

A contract station has been put into operation at McCauley's drug store, 2400 Taylor street, and Edgewold residents should go there for stamps and other postal services.

Columbia's assistant postmaster, G. S. Kester, said Edgewold residents who do not have street addresses, and who had previously called at the Edgewold office for mail, must now call for it at the general delivery window of the main office.