Rob!

How the heck are you? I know you've probably been slammed lately, but I hope you're having fun and coming up for air every now and then. Wes mentioned he spoke to you recently, and now that I'm officially a SC resident again, we need to find a time for all of us to get dinner or a drink. We're long overdue for a catch up. It'll give us a chance to swap stories from the front lines =)

In addition to getting a visit on our calendars, I actually had a work related inquiry for you. Since leaving DC, I've taken a bit of a career leap and joined the world of economic development. About a month ago I came on board with the team at Sagacious Partners, and I am absolutely loving it. One of our clients is EngenuitySC, and they have me working specifically with our nuclear cluster, NuHub. As you guys know well, NuHub is has teamed up with two vendors to compete for DOE funding to build Small Modular Reactor's in SC. (I'm trying to avoid bombarding you with info, but I'm happy to provide any background if you need it.)

I understand from Graham's office that both your boss and the Senator wrote letters to Secretary Chu in support of bringing these SMR's to SC, and we are thrilled to have you guys power hitting for us. We've gotten a copy of Lindsey's letter, but we haven't been able to get our hands on the one from the Governor. Any chance you could help us track that down? Or, if you'd feel more comfortable with it, would you help me get a quote from the letter that we could use in a press release? Either would be immensely helpful.

Let me know what works best for you guys, and we'll accommodate any way we can.

Can't wait to see you soon,

M
