South Carolina State Parks

at 20:00:00 on 2/02/2016 UTC · 🌐

This is a colored transparency photo of Poinsett State Park. The man and woman sitting on the bench are Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Dwight. Mr. Dwight was the first park superintendent for Poinsett and also worked as part of CCC supervisory personnel. In the early 1940s, Mr. Dwight designed and constructed the concrete and wood bench they are sitting on. The plans are in the state archives in Columbia. A number of these benches are still in use at Poinsett and Lee state parks and have definitely stood the test of time. Photo courtesy of SC Dept Archives and History.

Donna Shealy Willingham Love this park. Spent many days camping there as a child - happy memories!

Melissa Watkins I remember Mr. Dwight. I learned to swim at Poinsett Park. We spent almost every summer there. My Grandfather would fish there and it's where we had our family reunions.
