My sister was murdered at 16. She was found a month later only because the boys got caught. If they had not been caught, she never would have been found and my family would never have begun the healing process. We are still healing after 19 years of her being gone. Its not an easy process. I've been reading up on brittanees disappearance since I heard about it from my boyfriend last year. Him and his family actually knew the drexels well. Its time for this family to get justice for brittanee and being her home. Praying always for this family in their time of need.

Brittanee's family deserves answers as to where their love one is. This family has suffered for seven years wondering and trying to find Brittanee. Their answers about their daughter are long overdue. Brittanee needs to be found and people that had anything to do with it need to be held accountable.
