

Dear Nikki Haley

Hello! My name is John Fischer. We need your help. It all started sometime before 2012. Dad was an alcoholic so mom and dad were always arguing, and sometimes dad would hit her. A long time ago, I caught my dad choking my mom. Luckily, he let go. Then in February, 2012, dad abandoned us five months prior to his retirement (he was in the army). Since then, it's been a really rough ride. Dad let the car get repossessed, he cut off the water service, and he took my mom and my sister off the insurance (Tricare). In April, 2013, my mom was diagnosed with breast cancer. She got chemo therapy and even though it took a while, she was finally cancer free. But because she got cancer, she lost her job at Palmetto Health and so now she can't find a job. I can't sleep at night. This is why we need your help. I hope you can work something out.

Your friend,
John Fischer
