Dear Bar Members:

The 2016 Bar Convention is January 21-24 at Belmond Charleston Place. I hope you are making plans to attend this exceptional event, back in Charleston for the first time since 2008!

The Bar Convention is an important opportunity to connect with colleagues, network with members of the judiciary and conduct business with your Bar sections, committees, task forces and other groups. It has historically been the premier event for the South Carolina legal community, and this year is no exception. The following are a few highlights:

- * You'll have the opportunity to choose among 25 diverse seminars, the most economical way to fulfill the annual CLE requirement.
- * Nationally-recognized featured speakers include legal educator Stuart Teicher (Sunday Morning Breakfast Ethics), legendary running back Marcus Lattimore (Living Above the Bar Committee Seminar) and Congressman Trey Gowdy (Criminal Law).
- * Chief Justice Costa Pleicones will present his State of the Judiciary address during the plenary luncheon.
- * On Thursday evening we'll honor the contributions of distinguished deceased Bar members at the Memory Hold the Door ceremony, followed by the President's Welcome Reception at the beautiful S.C. Aquarium.
- * Ticketed social events will be unique to Charleston, including candle pouring and sweetgrass basket weaving classes, historic home and garden tour, bourbon tasting at the renowned Husk Restaurant and wine tasting.

Remember to use #SCBarCon16 to share your Convention experience.
I look forward to seeing you at the 2016 Convention.

Anne Ellefson
2015-16 Bar President
