Ms. Pisarik:

I have reviewed your experience and contacts on LinkedIn and copied and pasted them below.

I see you succeeded Catherine Templeton in the South Carolina Department of Labor Licensing and Regulation role, though I believe the role was not yet a cabinet position when Catherine Templeton occupied the Department leadership position. I see also that Catherine Templeton is listed prominently in your contacts, though below Nikki Haley in her part-time handyman business.

Now, Ms. Pisarik – Catherine Templeton and you were and are – by virtue of being licensed attorneys and the high positions of responsibility you have held – both very familiar with the laws and regulations governing registered Professional Engineers. No doubt you both were and are well versed in South Carolina State Acquisition Regulations (SAR) governing procurement of qualified professionals, and the rules of law governing presentation of expert opinions (including Daubert). You both must have a solid understanding of the responsibilities of fiduciaries as well as criminal governing protection of the environment and abuse of government power.

And you both worked closely with Governor Nikki Haley between March 2012 and January 2015.

I am still working on tying down the links with Special Agent Kristina Gainey of SLED during the period from July 2014 through January 2016. The most useful links are photography and eyewitness testimony of others who have described the link. As you know, Special Agent Kristina Gainey is hard to miss or mistake for someone else.

So, Ms. Pisarik, I have some idea what to expect with regard to your involvement at this time.

The stories and cast relationships just keep getting curiouser and curiouser.

Starting to look like Charlie's Angels scripts.

I guess we'll see.
