Good morning, I just wanted to clarify something. If we go to Hunting Island State park or Huntington Island State park and we get there early enough that it hasn't been closed. Are we able to sit on the beach and let the kids play or do we need to be in constant motion? I'm sorry if you have been inundated with questions about this but I haven't found an answer online yet. Thank you in advance. Greg

Yes, you may sit on the beach. Just keep distance from others.
