

The Honorable Nikki Haley
Office of the Governor
1205 Pendleton St.
Columbia, SC 29201

Mr. Paul T Langner
5744 Caballo, St.
Ft. Worth, Texas
76179

Dear Governor Haley:

I did not get to hear your response to The State of The Union, but I did hear your response to some of Trumps remarks calling them irresponsible. I have to agree with you that some of his statements have been out of line, but I feel like you have missed the bigger picture and that is the extreme anger that I and millions of Americans feel about the way this country has been run.

We are sick and tired of the political double speak that goes on in Washington. For example, the Republican Party begged us, last November, to give you control of both houses of Congress and we did. And what did we get for it? We got a fully funded Obama Care, a fully funded Planned Parenthood and funding for Obama's immigration initiatives. The party gave Obummer everything he wanted and we got the bill.

We are sick and tired of the political elite and establishment and their self- serving greed that puts them on easy street and puts the rest of us in the streets.

Thomas Jefferson once said" More debt means more taxes which means less spendable income which means a lower standard of living". We are sick and tired of more government regulation that not only strangles our economy, but leads to more spending that leads to more and higher taxes which leaves me with less income in my pocket. It seems that the governments solution to everything is more spending, more bail outs and more taxes and we foot the bill.

We are sick and tired of a party that espouses family values, citizenship, the constitutional rights of its citizens, a strong economy, employment for everyone, equal rights for everyone, smaller government, lower taxes, strong border control

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

3. The third part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

5. The fifth part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

6. The sixth part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

8. The eighth part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

9. The ninth part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

10. The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

11. The eleventh part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

12. The twelfth part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

13. The thirteenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

14. The fourteenth part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

15. The fifteenth part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

16. The sixteenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

17. The seventeenth part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

18. The eighteenth part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

19. The nineteenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

20. The twentieth part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary details are captured.

21. The twenty-first part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's financial performance. It discusses how regular reviews and audits can help identify areas for improvement and prevent potential issues.

22. The twenty-second part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

and a host of other values that they talk about, but, in fact, don't have the backbone to stand up and fight for those values.

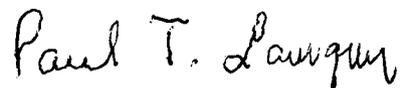

George Washington once said "If you do not want to fight a war, you must be prepared for war". We are sick and a tired of a weak kneed leader, who calls himself commander in chief, and refuses to stand up to the bully of the Middle East Iran. It's always been my experience that once you face down a bully he will back off. In this case it's the U.S. who is backing down to Iran and Russia. Putin and the Iranian leaders have made a fool of this President and a joke of our military power.

We are sick and tired of a party that continually caves into Obama and the Democrats giving them pretty much everything that they want.

It's time to start putting this country and the American people first. That's why we put you in office to serve the best interest of both and not yourselves. It's time for the political class to earn their keep instead of stealing it to serve themselves.

I appreciate your taking the time to read my letter, if in fact it reaches your desk at all.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Paul T. Langner". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the typed name.

Paul T. Langner