This Week's Insight: News Summary for June 2013

Happy Fourth of July to our practitioners in the United States! Because of the U.S. Holiday, we're delivering an abbreviated newsletter this week. We quickly want to mention our weekly content delivery.

For this week, we've put together a roundup of some of the more interesting news articles from around the web related to Shared Services. This month's roundup focuses mainly on the cost savings associated with Shared Services Initiatives.

Our news summaries are a great way to get a quick look into what different organizations are doing around the globe to move Shared Services forward.
