Julia and Ann, thanks so much for reaching out. March 15th and 16th are session days for us, and we'd hate to miss two in a row. Do you have yet a more detailed daily agenda (I may be missing it on the website)? It may be the case that we could arrive later on Wednesday and then spend Thursday and Friday there. I'd appreciate any other details that you have at this time. Thank you again,

Danny

Good evening, Lt. Gov. Bryant: (and hello, Danny!!)

Welcome to the National Lieutenant Governors Association (NLGA). We look forward to helping you create an immediate network with your peers nationally and with new federal and international officials – starting March 15 – 17, 2017, in Washington D.C.

NLGA will reimburse you for the cost of three nights hotel (T, W, TH) and your coach class airfare for the Federal-State Relations Meeting. The agenda and hotel contact data is here: <http://www.nlga.us/conferences/2017-federal-state-relations-meeting/>.

NLGA has a 50++ year record of success in bringing engaged leaders together and is the only bi/non-partisan organization serving all the nation's seconds-in-command. See www.nlga.us.

Ann Thelen in our office is copied and can also assist you any time. I know you won't make the Monday deadline. We will stay in touch and NLGA will make it work. We look forward to serving you. Please let us know how we can assist you in getting registered to attend and let me know of any question you may have. We look forward to receiving the names and email addresses of your staff as they come on board. Welcome!

Julia Hurst
