Dear Nikki,

Government processes are driven largely by information — from field reports and case histories, to requests for service and regulatory compliance documentation. When you're inundated with paperwork, having the right solution to support and enhance workflow processes will allow you and your team to get back to more important work, including serving the community.

Dragon Speech Recognition is ready to allay your paperwork challenges.

Join us on Tuesday, March 17th at 1:00 pm ET

<http://events.nuance.com/dragonslwebinar20150317?elq=544bd99de58f4f35840d284de86661ae&elqCampaignId=4406> for an exclusive webinar to learn how Dragon can assist your organization by:

- Increasing the efficiency of existing workflow processes
- Turning around documentation quickly and accurately using your voice
- Reducing operating expenses related to transcription services

- Improving productivity and customer service
- Reducing turnover by reducing stress associated with the documentation process

With Dragon, users are empowered to document everything from case notes and police reports, to field reports and email, faster and in more detail just by speaking. In fact, many workers save up to 50% of their time by dictating notes and improve overall job satisfaction.

We look forward to you joining us on March 17th.

Sincerely,

The Nuance Dragon Speech Recognition Team
