BACKGROUND:

Governor Haley is being recognized for her outstanding service as the Governor of South Carolina and for her unwavering support of the South Carolina home building industry. Governor Haley has been closely allied to the residential construction industry since 2004 and has been instrumental in passing legislation that promotes the residential building industry, and more importantly, home ownership for the citizens of South Carolina. She has been a staunch supporter of the home builder agenda and has been a leader on every environmental and land use issue for more than a decade. Governor Haley has always been a strong supporter and a friend to the Home Builders Association and to our industry.
