Under the governor's leadership, South Carolina has focused on providing support for training programs for students that meet needs of the state's businesses. Building on this momentum, the South Carolina Workforce Development Act prioritizes job skills and career development so that the state's workforce remains among the strongest in the world.

Video of the full press conference can be found here:

“By prioritizing a statewide coordinated workforce development effort now, we are taking a proactive approach to avoid a future skills gap crisis while also providing our citizens greater education and pay opportunities for the jobs of the future,” said Chairman Brian White.
