Nice.

You'll need to include a few other small details but it looks pretty good to me.

We will need talking points, just brief bulleted points.

How many students will be there?

Do the students know anything by NSYNC, it's all Courtney's been talking about since the VMAs?

Here is the information for the school visit tomorrow. I am waiting to hear back from Scholastic on the representatives who will be attending on their behalf.

Let me know if you have any questions.
