

From: Pisarik, Holly <HollyPisarik@gov.sc.gov>
To: hggillespie@gmail.com hggillespie@gmail.com
Date: 12/30/2015 4:16:22 PM
Subject: Fwd: Clemson Tixs

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: <HollyPisarik@gov.sc.gov>
Date: December 30, 2015 at 3:16:00 PM CST
To: <govhaley@gov.sc.gov>
Cc: Swati Patel <swatipatel@gov.sc.gov>, Butch Bowers <butch@butchbowers.com>
Subject: Clemson Tixs

Governor,

It is my understanding that you are attending the Clemson bowl game in Florida on December 31, 2015, and will be sitting in one of the boxes provided free of charge to Clemson by the Orange Bowl. Although the tickets are being provided to you in your official capacity by Clemson University, a lobbyist principal, your anticipated activities while in the box fall within the economic development exception contained in SC Code Section 2-17-90(A)(6). Below is the list of invitees, including a number of their family members, and the companies they represent.

- Tom and Kathy Reed, Chicago, IL - CEO of RUST-OLEUM
- Doug and Katie Davidson, Atlanta, GA- President and CEO of New South Construction -Two children (Diana is a sophomore and cheers for CU, Douglass is 15)
- Sallie and Jay Lee - Greenville, SC - VP of Global Sales and Marketing for Rexford
- Vivian Reeves - Tampa, FL - Reeves Import Motor Group
- Jon Glover - Alabama, Drummond-Glover Real Estate Group
- Steve Owings - Greenville, SC -Osprey Venture Capital Group
- Betty Poe, Greenville , SC - philanthropist
- Bob and Susan Hambright, Charlotte, NC - retired CEO of Balfour Beatty Construction
- Mike and Mary Gill, Baltimore, Maryland, secretary of Commerce for State of Maryland
- Jim and Carolyn Creel, Myrtle Beach, SC - President of the Creel Company.
- Tycho and Marie Howle, Naples, FL , retired entrepreneur in computer industry
- Margaret Bond, DeBordieu, SC, family business owner

To qualify for the economic development exception, code section 2-17-90(A)(6)(b) requires you to obtain prior written approval, in this case, from yourself. If you agree that your actions while in the box will fall within the economic development exception, please respond to this email that you approve. Your email back to me will constitute prior written approval as required by section 2-17-90(A)(b)(6).

As you are aware, we will report the value of the tickets on your statement of economic interests.

I've spoken with Butch, and he concurs in this opinion.

Thanks, Holly

Sent from my iPhone