---

Hi Chaney -

I am so sorry to reach out under the circumstances, and certainly my thoughts and prayers are with the people of South Carolina during this very difficult time. I saw the Governor's press conference last night, and was so moved by her thoughtfulness and leadership. We would love I find a time to have the Governor join CNN, if possible today. I work across all of the shows, so am able to accommodate any scheduling concerns, and find the right show at the right time for the Governor. Just something to keep in mind, CNN's content is carried on 17 of South Carolina's affiliates, so the interview will reach our cable audience, but also your local audience as well.

Again my thoughts and prayers are with you. Please let me know if this might be possible.

Sincerely,
Alli Brennan
