STAFF REPORTS

ADMINISTRATIVE/FINANCIAL REPORT – JIM HAYNES, INTERIM COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR

Transition – New Interim Administrator - Mr. Haynes stated that he worked to make the transition from Mr. Kimrey to himself as Interim Administrator as smooth as possible. This is fairly straightforward in the administrative areas, but is a bit more technical in the areas of Economic Development and catching up on the various projects.

Expenditure & Revenue – The County revenues were 15% and expenses were 34% through the end of October. The county has not seen the revenues normally received by this time after tax bills have gone out in the past. Whether the revenue would be realized by the November report or whether folks are holding on to their money longer due to economic conditions is yet to be seen.

Fire Truck - Wallace Fire Department –Mr. Haynes advised he had received the invoice for the fire truck the county is handling for the Wallace Fire Department earlier in the day. He stated that he was working with BB&T to get the details for the transaction finalized.

Marlboro County Entrance Signs – Mr. Haynes advised that he had been following up on Welcome to Marlboro County entrance signs. He advised that he had approved, with some qualifications, the mock ups of the signs.

Salary Adjustment for Employees – Mr. Haynes stated that as mentioned by Mr. Kimrey at the last meeting, the salary adjustment previously approved by Council would be included in the first December payroll checks for the employees who qualify.

Renovations of the Administration Building with Architect – Mr. Haynes stated that he had been working with the Architect, Mr. Hal Fuller on the renovations of the Administration Building. He stated that his efforts were first to learn what we were expecting from our request for bids, and then, as would be discussed later, how the county might get where we want to be with the available budget. In addition, this had involved actual discussions with employees and others affected by the work to explain what the county is trying to do.

Roofing – Administration Building – Even though the roofing of the Administration Building has been ongoing for well over a month, we continue to fight water intrusion problems every time that it rains. Mr. Haynes advised that earlier in the day of November 14, 2012, the building had a fairly significant leak in the 911 area coming from one of the vents through the roof that had been “sealed”. Obviously, the problem is getting better, but has not been solved.

Airport Easements – Mr. Haynes stated the county is continuing to work to get easements at the airport related to the glide slope.

Employees with Five Years’ Service – Employees with at least five years’ service through the end of October 2012 include: Kathea P. Pegues (5 years); Jamie G. Seales (5 years); Christina A. Hagan (6 years); Garry Harrington (7 years); Jerry T. Kendall (7 years); Lori A. Davis-Moses (9 years); Jessica W. Jones (9 years); Sherry L. Odom (12 years); John A. Grooms (12 years); Sherry L. Mr. Brock stated that it was dangerous to open that exit. Mr. Haynes, Interim County Administrator stated that there was another exit open.

Mr. Willie Gladden inquired if the board concerning Trinity was inactive. Mr. Brock stated that the board was indeed inactive due to a lack of acting members because there were many meetings that did not have a quorum.

Mr. Ron Munnerlyn, Chairman advised Mr. Brock to give the list of names for interested board members to Mr. Jim Haynes, Interim County Administrator.

Ms. Willa Johnson – Ms. Johnson, a resident of Wallace, SC humorously stated that she was the “self-appointed mayor” of Wallace. Ms. Johnson stated that she resided on Poe Road in Wallace and that she has had difficulty with Animal Control in her area. She stated that a former resident left two dogs in their neighborhood which is causing residents much concern due to the imminent danger of the dogs attacking them.
