

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Timeline posts

Record ID: 20130709South-Carolina-State-ParksTimeline-posts52748_10151700911733166

South Carolina State Parks

at 15:00:02 on 7/09/2013 UTC · 🌐

TIDBIT! Spadefish have a striking black and silver coloration and should not be confused with any other fish in South Carolina. These tasty, saltwater fish can be caught off fishing piers or in deeper water around wrecks. Offshore, adults have been seen schooling with several hundred other fish. They prey on worms, anemones, crabs, jellyfish and soft corals.

Nanette Barton I have caught one of these & of course released it immediately. Very beautiful fish indeed!!

at 15:02:35 on 7/09/2013 UTC