Senator Bryant,

Will you help us raise $15,000 and meet our match by midnight tomorrow?

We need every penny to push for environmental progress in South Carolina.

GrowFood Carolina, the state's first food hub, is a fundamental part of the Coastal Conservation League. From our warehouse in Charleston, we deliver farm-fresh, locally grown food to restaurants and retailers. And in doing so, we help small producers keep farming on rural land in South Carolina.

Your donation right now to the Conservation League and GrowFood Carolina will help us save more rural farmland from rapid growth and development and put more money back in the hands of local farmers. With your support, we will continue to cultivate a resilient, diverse food system that increases your access to healthy food.

South Carolina's farmers and coast need you now more than ever, and so do we. Please give to the Conservation League and GrowFood Carolina now at:

Thanks for eating local,

Sara
