

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Photos

Album: Timeline Photos

Record ID: 20140408South-Carolina-State-ParksPhotos52748_10152316455613166

South Carolina State Parks

at 12:00:00 on 4/08/2014 UTC

The turkey vulture has many wonderful adaptations that help it survive. Here one is exhibiting the "Horaltic pose." This posture allows the turkey vulture to dry its feathers and increase body temperature by absorbing sunlight. Come out to Charles Towne Landing to see the "Close Encounters of the Bird Kind" program on the second and fourth Saturday of every month at 11:30 am to learn more about these amazing birds. www.southcarolinaparks.com/ctl

