<sup>1</sup> In some instances a course is offered by an institution at more than one location; therefore, number of classes can exceed number of courses.

<sup>2</sup> "Location" is defined as the city or town in which a course is offered. In any of the urban areas, there may be several specific locations for courses; but those separate sites are counted together as one "location," that being the total urban area.

<sup>3</sup> Includes 17 TV courses available statewide. Each TV course is counted only once here even though offered (or available) at many locations, including individual banks across the State.

<sup>4</sup> Includes the 17 TV courses, each counted as being at one location only.
