Judy Clingman Dewitt Paul if you guys have never been down there (SC) you really should go. Lots of history and beautiful little and big towns. Charleston of course is my favorite place in the country.

Paul Myers There is an ulterior motive to the plantation trip. There is also Myrtle Beach with several hundred golf courses in the area. What a perfect trip! I'll bet the plantation would cost a fortune to stay there, and you probably would have to make reservations a year in advance. It just looks like that sort of place. I will check it out.

Judy Clingman Dewitt I only know of one Plantation that has accommodations on it and that is Middleton Place outside Charleston. I don't know anything about this one.

There are hundreds of golf courses in SC, Myrtle Beach is a very active, tho nice place. Not a quiet little retreat tho I don't think. Busy all the time. If you want real action - go to Myrtle on May 2-9, biker week!
