

I have A Man In My Life

Oh Yes I said it; I have a man in my life. Yes friends and family you heard right. And I been talking to this man longer than long grain rice; that right that's what I said. Because He is much better to me than my husband could ever be to me. You all this man has it all. And this man will give me my heart's desire. Oh Yes family and friends this man is very good to me, I want you to know and I want all of you to hear, what He has done for me. When I was down He picked me up. And when I was sick, He healed me. And when I was broke He gave to me. And when I was in need He helped me. And when I pray He answers my prayers. This man is the best I've ever known, because He's always with me and I'm never alone. And He is my trustworthy friend, and if you didn't know, now you know. Oh Yes the man in my life is the Lord Jesus Christ.

And
He is the love of my life.

Romantic Kissing Therapy 101

Oh I'm going over this love assignment once with you so you will know exactly what you should do.

Oh when you kiss and rub the head, you might want to get in the bed. Oh when you kiss the ears, you will be able to hear what is said. Oh when you kiss the nose, it just might shine. Oh when you kiss the lips, you might pat and rub the hips. Oh when you kiss the cheeks, you might wanna speak. Oh when you kiss the chin, you might laugh and grin. Oh when you kiss the neck, you shouldn't wanna gamble or make a bet. Oh when you kiss the chest, you should make your request. Oh when you kiss the arms, you just might sound off the alarm, with your good looks and your charms. Oh when you kiss the hands, you might want to dance. Oh when you kiss the stomach, you might say O yes we done it. Oh when you kiss the thighs, you wouldn't wanna tell a lie. Oh when you kiss the legs, you shouldn't have to beg. Oh when you kiss the knees, you should always remember to say please. Oh when you kiss the back, you're the one who should always take up the slack. Oh when you kiss the feet, oh thank God for your marriage union. So friend kiss again and again, because the love of Jesus Christ.

will never come to a end, so kiss and hug your spouse again and again friend!
