They were both lately clothed with osnabrigs and bought, some time last winter, by Mr. John Edwards at Mr. Levy's up the path, at the sale of the late Captain North's estate, and purchased from Mr. Edwards by the subscriber. They took with them a small mouse-coloured horse, branded with Capt. North's brand, with saddle, bridle and all the effects they had, it is supposed, with an intent never to return to their owner. They were pursued the next morning, and tracked several miles, making towards the southward; where it is imagined they are gone; and, as they have friends and relations about Ponpon, it is likely they will be harboured there. Whoever will apprehend the said run-aways and deliver them, or either of them, to the warden of the work-house, or to the subscriber, in Charles Town, shall receive for Saul ten pounds, and for the wench and child ten pounds, or twenty pounds for the three, and all reasonable charges.

TO be sold, by public vendue, run away from the subscriber's plantation near Saltcatcher [Salkehatchie], about two months ago, a Negro man named Andrew, about twenty-eight years of age, born in this country, about five feet eight inches high, and is pretty thick over the shoulders, has slim legs and large feet, a long head, thin visage, hanging lips, particularly when out of humour, of a yellowish complexion and surly look with part of one of his upper fore teeth broke; He had on when he went away, a blue Negro cloth jacket, and broad cloth breeches, also an iron with one joint on one of his legs, which was put on him for his misbehaviour and breach of trust while he was about my son's store in Charles Town, in and about which place he is very well known, as he also is in many parts of the country. It is imagined he may be gone to Georgia to his mother, named Venus, at Mr. Joseph Nutt's plantation in that province, probably to get harboured by her; or it is possible he may endeavour to pass for a free fellow, by the name of Andrew Johnson, being a sensible and artful fellow. A reward of twenty pounds currency and reasonable charges will be given to any person who will apprehend and deliver the said Negro to the warden of the work-house in Charles Town; likewise a reward of one hundred pounds like money will be given on conviction of the offender, to any person or persons, who will give information to the subscriber of the said fellow's being harboured or employed, or of his being carried off this, or the neighbouring provinces, by a white person, if by a Negro, twenty pounds. All masters of vessels, in this or the neighbouring provinces, are by this forewarned from carrying the said fellow off with them, on any pretense whatsoever, as the offenders will be prosecuted to the utmost rigor of the law, on conviction of either of the above offenses, by Thomas Radcliffe.

LIMUS; mutilated; his flogging solicited

Eden, Joshua

Absented himself from the Subscriber, the 4th of this Instant, a NEGRO Man, named LIMUS; he is of a yellow Complexion, and has the ends of three of his Fingers cut off his left Hand; he is well known in Charles-Town from his saucy and impudent Tongue, of which I have had many Complaints; therefore, I hereby give free Liberty, and will be also much obliged to any Person to flog him (so as not take his Life) in such Manner as they shall think proper, whenever he is found out of my Habitation without a Ticket; for though he is my Property, he has the audacity to tell me "he will be free, that he will serve no Man, and that he will be conquered or governed by no Man." I forwarn Masters of Vessels from carrying him off the Province, and all Persons from harbouring him in their Houses or Plantations. JOSHUA EDEN.
