America's Only Presidential Imposter....Section 2

*As I previously wrote, increasing challenges to Barack Obama's claim of having provided proof of his Presidential eligibility forced him to search for other ways to stifle resistance to his claim. Hawaiian Governor Neil Abercrombie said he personally knew the Obama family, was certain of his eligibility and would prove it by personally going to the Health Dept. and obtaining a valid birth certificate copy. Shortly after, he publically admitted that the only thing found in the Health Dept.files was a piece of paper scribbled with some names, including a "Barack Obama".No actual birth certificate, not even a "Certification of Live Birth" (hereafter COLB), which, Obama had claimed,matched a Daily Kos website posting. How could the Daily Kos post a copy of a document which the Health Dept. could not find for the Governor? Answer:by using a fraudulent COLB.In 2008, the Daily Kos unveiled this fraudulent document, a limited,inadmissable document for confirming presidential eligibility, Obama, a former Constitutional teacher, knew its limitations yet cited it as proof of his eligibility. In so doing, he opened the door to challenges against its legitimacy by experts who overwhelmingly declared it fraudulent.. Even if an identical Health Dept.copy was located that would simply show that both were fraudulent, ineligible documents.Two wrongs do not equal a right.

Obama knew that only a long-form "Certificate of Live Birth", requiring approx. 41 bits of information, was valid for one seeking the Presidency. Data missing from his invalid COLB included the birth hospital name, attending physician and birth witnesses; important information required to help determine one's eligibility. Also, his birth certificate number was blacked out, ignoring the COLB's warning "ANY ALTERATION INVALIDATES THIS CERTIFICATE". Obama deliberately lied in claiming that his COLB was a true copy of an eligible birth certificate, a document supposedly resting in Hawaii's Health Dept.files, for, if true, it meant both copies were ineligible for Presidential aspirants. Obama continued his deception until April,2011, deceiving a Nation he had sworn to serve. This was a deliberate conspiracy designed to steal our Country by usurping our Constitution, starting with Obama's false documents to conceal his status. Further, in 2009, he displayed a letter he had sent to Kapiolani Medical Center in Hawaii, stating that he was born there. Since the hospital would not confirm this he, in essence, "vetted" himself by allowing his letter to circulate nationwide.

When Hawaiian State Senator Sam Slom asked the hospital's chief officer, Martha Steward, if Obama's birth claim was true, she would only confirm that a copy of Obama's above-mentioned letter (not a birth certificate) hangs in their office, away from public view. Also, The Hospital has no public monument to Obama's birth. Imagine, the "supposed" first African-American President of our Nation claims a birth hospital yet cannot get that hospital to confirm his claim. One would expect a hospital would proudly display or acknowledge such an auspicious event....yet none did! Obama constantly refers to himself as being "transparent" yet lied repeatedly for over two years. Criminal acts, born of desperation. In those same years he never mentioned the existence of a valid long-form "Certificate of Live Birth", which should have been in the Hawaiian Dept. of Health files (but isn't) nor a copy which would have gone to his parents at the time of his birth. He continued using his fraudulent COLB on the Daily Kos network to justify his legitimacy. The only reason none of the above-mentioned documents were found was because he knew none existed. Any and all of his records, if made public, would have exposed his deception. A simple producing of a valid "Certificate of Live Birth", if existing, could have resolved this issue but Obama's fear of disclosure and consequent disgrace was so overpowering that when a Georgia Court issued a federal subpoena, ordering him to produce a valid "Certificate of Live Birth" his attorney's firm notified the Court, in writing, that neither Obama nor they would obey the Court's orders. Obama's usurping of our Constitution was now in full swing! As more and more people challenged Obama's eligibility the crumbling value of his COLB became more apparent to him. Even had it been authentic it would have been declared an ineligible document for Presidential aspirants. It could have helped one obtain a passport, social security number, or secure a license to drive a car....but not a Nation. Also, if his COLB matched a Hawaiian Health Dept. copy, as he claimed, that would simply have made both copies COLB's, and, consequently both ineligible for The Presidency, hence Obama no longer allows any document re his birth, schooling, etc. to be viewed by anyone. Something, however, arose in 2010, which forced him to change tactics in defending his eligibility.

Since 2010, various States sought legislation for future elections, including a requirement that only a "Certificate of Live Birth" be acceptable for Presidential aspirants, incumbent or otherwise. Obama knew his COLB would not survive close scrutiny, leaving him but one avenue of deception....create another fraudulent document, this time a long-form Certificate of Live Birth and claim the Health Dept. recently found it. In April, 2011, sure enough, he said the Health Dept. found a document never previously mentioned or offered by Obama, nor found by Gov. Abercrombie, nor the Hospital, nor by the Health Dept. He also said the Health Dept. had sent a copy to him which he then put on a Govt.

website and personally proclaimed to the Country as proof of eligibility...another "self-vetting" by Obama. He knew that if he allowed his "newly found" Certificate of Live Birth to be examined by experts this new forgery would have been exposed. How so ? Remember, in 2009 he claimed his COLB on the Daily Kos matched an Hawaiian Health Dept. copy (now missing from the hospital files). He never mentioned a valid long-form Certificate of Live Birth. (also missing from those files), which, if existing, could have saved himself and America millions in lawsuits and possibly confirmed his eligibility. How could a Health Dept. copy of his COLB disappear and, years later, a long-form Certificate of Live Birth now be found in its place? Obama must really consider America as naive, or is "stupid" the word? Since this 2011 "find" was immediately branded a fake by computer experts there was but one of two conclusions. If a hospital copy truly existed and matched Obama's, it meant both were frauds. If, on the other hand, no hospital copy was found, as the Governor discovered, how could Obama, in 2011, again obtain a copy of a non-existent document?

Where and when was Barack Obama born? No one in Hawaii can name his birth doctor...no Hawaiian hospital will confirm his birth there, including Kapiolani Medical Center; Governor Abercrombie, who promised to return with Obama's original birth certificate, did keep half of his promise...he returned. Unfortunately, he returned empty-handed! Do we need a house to fall on us to understand what has transpired? Actually, one already has... the White House! Now Obama is telling us he has received a missing long-form "Certificate of Live Birth" from the Hawaiian Dept. of Health. Where was this document for over two and one-half years while people were requesting it and having his COLB waived in their faces in response? Was it lost until the Governor stated that Hawaii had no record of it, and then conveniently found after he returned to his office, or was it, as more and more computer experts declared, another fraudulent document as was his COLB previously posted on the Daily Kos site?

Barack Obama, who will not release any documents to confirm his eligibility, had the effrontery, during the 2012 election race, to publically state that Mitt Romney should release twelve years of tax returns in the interest of "transparency", saying "those seeking the White House must know their life is an open book." "Open book?" This from a man who won't even allow page one of his open book to be viewed by anyone. Had Mr. Romney retorted "I will show you my tax returns if you show me a valid birth certificate. Obama's silence would have been deafening!

Thousands have received my previous letters on this issue, yet, not one has claimed my letters are not factual. That's because I only use facts...not falsehoods. Had Obama produced the valid documents ordered in the Georgian subpoena this issue would have been resolved. That, however, would have cost Obama the Presidency and that he could not tolerate. Further letters will detail the length he would go to in concealing his records. Coming up is an example of how our Military experienced Obama's definition of "transparency", with his destruction of the career of a faithful Army Officer for simply writing to him for
