

From: GOVERNING Daily <newsletters@governing.com>
To: Lt. Governor's OfficeLtGov@scstatehouse.gov
Date: 12/18/2018 9:51:02 AM
Subject: With Child Homelessness on the Rise, What Can Schools Do?

Subscribe to Governing Magazine & Newsletters
Follow us on Facebook / Twitter / LinkedIn / Instagram

Today's newsletter presented by Google

FEATURED STORY FOR DECEMBER 18, 2018

With Child Homelessness on the Rise, What Can Schools Do?

"This is something that school districts are just going to have to plan for," says an education official in Washington state, which is proactively helping these students succeed and secure housing. PLUS:

- Chronic Absenteeism a Major Problem in U.S. Schools

LATEST GOVERNING NEWS & COMMENTARY

BETTER, FASTER, CHEAPER

A Data-Driven Approach to Cooling a City

Urban heat islands threaten public health. Dallas is turning to a smart growth strategy -- and lots of trees -- to deal with the problem.

CONTENT PROVIDED BY GOOGLE

NIA: Accelerating the fight against Parkinson's Disease with Google Cloud

The National Institute on Aging works with the International Parkinson's Disease Genomics Consortium to characterize molecular changes associated with the debilitating disease. A recent study involved compiling data from thousands of exomes across various research institutes, but no consortium member had enough resources to process all 6,500 exomes.

DOWNLOAD NOW

LATEST WEB HEADLINES

FINANCE

- Google to Invest $1 Billion in New York City Campus on Hudson River
-

HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES

- After Obamacare Ruling, States Ask Judge to Protect Coverage During Appeal Process
 - Despite Uncertainty of Obamacare Ruling, Medicaid Expansion Likely to Proceed
 - A First, Texas University Trains Every Health Student to Administer Overdose-Reversal Drug
-

POLITICS

- Amid Election Fraud Claims, North Carolina GOP Asks State Board to Certify House Race
- North Carolina's Democratic Governor Vetoes Voter ID Bill
- 'Zero Respect for the Voters': Michigan Governor Signs Bills That Water Down Minimum Wage, Sick Leave Laws
- Amid 2020

• Speculation, South Bend Mayor Won't Seek Another Term

PUBLIC JUSTICE & SAFETY

- In a Leftward Shift, New York Governor Calls for Recreational Marijuana Legalization
- Measure Restoring Felons' Voting Rights Should Be Delayed, Says Florida Governor-Elect
- Judge Orders Idaho to Give Transgender Inmate Gender Surgery

NEWS IN NUMBERS

12 out of 18

States that allow both religious and personal exemptions and have seen a rise in them since 2009. Twenty-nine other states allow either religious or personal exemptions. Three allow neither.

MORE

WHO SAID THAT?

"This is insanity in print, and it will not stand up on appeal."

MORE

CONTENT PROVIDED BY GOOGLE

Eagle County: Prepared for natural disasters with Google Cloud

The Lake Christine Fire, which started in July 2018, created many challenges for Eagle County officials. Beginning outside Basalt, Colorado, the fire would burn more than 12,000 acres throughout the region. Within this high-pressure scenario, Eagle County planned to migrate its emergency operations center to Google Cloud.

DOWNLOAD NOW

\ri120

Unsubscribe | Opt out of all e.Republic email | Privacy Statement

© 2018 e.Republic. All rights reserved. 100 Blue Ravine Road, Folsom, CA 95630. Phone: 916-932-1300