

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Timeline posts

Record ID: 20130501South-Carolina-State-ParksTimeline-posts52748_10151570801178166

South Carolina State Parks

at 19:00:03 on 5/01/2013 UTC · 🌐

Take a step back into the Revolutionary War this weekend at Musgrove Mill State Historic Site -- May 4-5 -- 10 a.m.-4 p.m. each day! We'll have weapons demos, blacksmithing, cooking, colonial toys and games -- and so much more! Click below for more details or contact the park at 864-938-0100 or musgrovemill@scprt.com.

2013 Revolutionary War Encampment Weekend at Musgrove Mill State Historic Site May 4th and 5th, 2013

Come experience what the lives of men and women were like during the Revolutionary War through weapons demonstrations, camp life, cooking, blacksmithing, and much more!

South Carolina
State Park Service

Observe reenactors as they demonstrate the weapons and tactics used on the South Carolina Frontier during the American Revolution.

Bring the kids, and let them participate in Colonial Toys and Games, quill pen writing, and a special muster drill of their own.

Take part in guided hikes lead by park staff and learn about the history of the park.

Admission is $3.00 for Adults (16-64), $1.50 for Seniors (65 and up), and children 15 and under are free. For more information contact the park at (864) 938-0100.

Musgrove Mill State Historic Site is located at 398 State Park Rd. in Clinton, SC on Hwy 56 between Clinton and Cross Anchor. Questions? Call Phone: (864) 938-0100 or email mgmillsp@scprt.com

Alice Lathan Shealy I would really enjoy this. Maybe one day when Mike gets better, we can travel together. Bless us oh Lord.

at 2:52:58 on 5/02/2013 UTC

Elizabeth Peake Moon I never have been to the Musgrove park but like to sometimes I am at Croft State Park and not that busy doing stuff with the grands.

at 4:06:42 on 5/02/2013 UTC