South Carolina State Parks

at 14:21:06 on 2/02/2010 UTC ·

Another rainy day across most of South Carolina! So, help us out. If you were at a park and stuck inside for the day, what would you like the park to offer or provide to help make your rainy day more enjoyable? Games, puzzles, you tell us!

Lissa J. Davis Board game tournaments!

at 14:23:46 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Sherry Jordan Pitts Board games, puzzles, books, cd player, satellite or cable tv, fireplaces, roasting sticks, hot chocolate, marshmallows. LOL Lots of good stuff!

at 14:24:51 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Leigh Anne Wicker A family type movie would be nice.

at 14:25:34 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Tricia Crawford a deck of cards

at 14:27:44 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Diane Shealy Frick internet in the cabins ?

at 14:35:35 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Leigh Anne Wicker Internet all though some of the campgrounds would be nice too.

at 14:40:24 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Beth Davis Finley Agree with Leigh, we love camping but we also love our internet..

at 14:43:23 on 2/02/2010 UTC

South Carolina State Parks Great suggestions! We know you love internet, and we've got it on our list. Can you get creative and give us some suggestions we might not think of? How about a little on-park library where you could swap books? Tell us some more stuff you'd like!

at 14:48:55 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Angie Kelly Comfy snacks, a good crossword puzzle book, board game, a juicy movie... thats all i got. ;-)

at 14:52:08 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Deborah Adams History of the park... some kind of class. Hey, I like learning... learning is fun.

at 14:56:33 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Tricia Hicks Kyzer invite local retired artists to come out for rainy day workshops.

at 15:03:01 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Mary Jarrett Treasure hunts inside the cabin. Hide something in there and on rainy days give us a map.

at 15:12:58 on 2/02/2010 UTC

James Long any thing that keeps us dry

at 15:15:14 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Hope Lane Addis Maybe one of those rent a movie for 1$ kiosks like walmart has...

at 15:22:55 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Jennifer Smith Haig We love to read when camping so the loaner library is a great idea.

at 15:28:22 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Blaine K Owens As a photographer, I take some of my best images on rainy days. Staying inside is not an option for me. <http://www.picasaweb.google.com/bkophoto> Waterfall images presented in all their grandeur on overcast, misty and rainy days. Just keep the cameras dry.

at 15:54:22 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Scott Witte Native plant/flora interpretive guides

at 16:18:22 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Mim Shelden Thanks for sharing photos Blaine

at 16:32:15 on 2/02/2010 UTC

South Carolina State Parks We love it! Keep them coming!

at 16:42:28 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Nancy Eargle Hargrove Some type of summer/winter shelter in the campgrounds. In winter, fireplace with a supply of dry wood and ceiling fans for the summer. Tuck in some rustic furniture and a great place for people to just sit around and share.
and YES, the internet!!!!

at 18:15:07 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Betsy Ridlehoover Robinson Many years ago....camping with 4 kids and 11 inches or rain over a weekend....we went out and bought our first Nintendo!

at 19:11:29 on 2/02/2010 UTC

Debbie Watson-Crawford Hayes Video collections of the park's activities and features. They could be checked out and viewed in cabins or at the office complex. Also indoor shuffleboard and similar games would be fun. I also wish there were lodges at the parks with a built-in restaurant serving local favorites. My wish lists! Lodges would allow more people to enjoy overnight stays at the park. They have this in Kentucky. I love State Parks!

at 18:43:30 on 2/04/2010 UTC

April Clinton more area history forums. Such as local descendant stories of their family-- political views, religion, lifestyles, receipes, tidbits of legends--all as windows to what was experienced in the region.

Sue Ann Tarkenton I would love to have a storyteller come in and sit by the fire or in some comfy spot and tell stories from the region and or state. You could have different times for different groups ~ like a few family story times and later you could plan ghostly stories from SC for the older kids, teens and adults. Everyone could bring a sleeping bag or blanket to sit on. Maybe you could have hot chocolate and coffee (at a reasonable price). Another GREAT idea would be to have someone playing live music like on a guitar or something similar. They could play anything from mountain music, to jazz, to blue grass or whatever floats their boat. It would create a very cozy atmosphere and be a great backdrop for making memories. Another thing I remember from summer camp was planning a skit for the camp's talent show. You could even have something like American Idol and let anyone enter just for fun. You could select a panel of judges from the willing campers and prepare for some laughs. I have so many great memories from attending summer camp each year. Sorry ~ didn't mean to go on forever.
