There's not a more beautiful time of year to explore S.C. Hwy 11. And the good news is....it's lined with state parks! Check it out: <https://southcarolinaparks.com/stories/the-ultimate-road-trip-state-parks-along-sc-highway-11>

Katie Johnson Warren Do you still have to wear masks to go in state park buildings? I understand they will assist those with a condition that prevents wearing a mask while that person remains outside. How does this apply to using the restroom?

Sharon Lee Benton Riddle Been to all the state parks on hwy11 very nice , don't know which I love the best

South Carolina State Parks Although we don't actively monitor mask usage within our restroom facilities, all of our public facilities require the use of masks to protect our visitors and employees. We ask that when using any of our restroom facilities that you wear a mask to protect yourself and others, when possible.

Ed Kinsel I love Table Rock more than any place on Earth.

Katie Johnson Warren Ed Kinsel you'll notice I reference a person who has a condition that precludes them wearing a mask. I would share my medical data with you, but I'm not sure that your business. I'm asking from a preparedness standpoint - would we want to use the restroom immediately before coming. Are you against this and if so why?

Katie Johnson Warren South Carolina State Parks but a faceshield would suffice? A true mask isn't a good option for me some days.

at 14:13:11 on 10/03/2020 UTC

Jason Bethea Kathryn Rae, we need to just go do this.

Tammy Lee Katie Johnson Warren the restroom at ceasars head is in a little building out by the upper parking lot. Totally separate from the store and visitors center. You should be fine. I didn't wear a mask on the trail. Most people did not and no one monitoring the bathroom building. However at sadafrass mountain the bathrooms are closed and they just have portojohns.

Jayne Hinchey Katie Johnson Warren because no one has a condition so bad that the can't wear a mask for a few minutes to go use the restroom. If you are that bad off stay home it's p not safe for you to be out walking you might right run out of air.

Katie Johnson Warren Jayne Hinchey thank you for knowing about every condition on earth.

Katie Johnson Warren Jayne Hinchey it's not about my lungs. Btw. But again, you are clearly an expert on all conditions everywhere, and a good judge of who has a right to be in public.

Kathryn Rae Jason Bethea yesss!

Becky Burgess Brock Spent yesterday afternoon with my best buddy at Cheraw State Park. Brought our lunch, talked and laughed the whole time. Fun day!

Katie Johnson Warren Tammy Lee thank you. I know a lot of people say "oh it's only a few minutes of the mask on" but if I have to walk in and out of a building and all that it can get to be a bit much and so many people just don't understand. And some days are better than others! As long as they don't have a beef with a shield vs. A mask I'm ok too. I just don't feel like getting in a fight with a park ranger over my need to use a restroom! Amazing how many people take my asking a question as some sort of rebellion or attack!!

Joy Bagwell Cooper Katie Johnson Warren I'm so sorry that people can't just take your question at face value and feel the need to believe that they know the why's and what for's behind it.
I personally am glad you asked that question because my husband and I ride a motorcycle and don't always remember to put our masks in the bag.
Thank you for asking it!

Katie Johnson Warren Joy Bagwell Cooper you're welcome...and I know it came out funny asking how they would assist as it applies to the bathroom...but there is no other way to ask people just can't be nice anymore and they feel like they have to know all your business or judge! I'm just asking a question folks! Today looks like a great day for a car trip for us, so I want to know what I'm getting into! I hope you get to enjoy some time on your motorcycle in all this lovely weather!

Tammy Lee Katie Johnson Warren you should be fine at ceasars head. I personally just don't go places that push the issue. Amazing myself at how much time energy and money I've been saving. Lol.

Robin Bannister Went to table rock camping for several days a few weeks ago...only place anyone wore a mask was in the park office/store. Saw no one on trails or bathrooms with one. Don't worry about it they are not enforcing it.

Donna Keel Dooley I personally think that if you have a problem with wearing a mask you should stay home. I think a face shield would work better for people who can't???? Wear a mask.
