There's too much to say regarding this topic of injustice. I think the petition focus on the hot points very well and I agree 100%.

Because I feel it's unconstitutional to have such a list in place singling out certain people. You don't have a list for drug dealers, home invasion, drunk drivers, etc... It's just not fair if those people can serve their time and repay their so called debt to society then all should be afforded the same treatment.

Imposing a lifetime of "sex offender" label on someone--along with being barred from housing, employment, school, & other areas of public life-- is creating a witch-hunt that hurts far more people than it helps, especially for children and teens. Hundreds of colleges adopting "affirmative consent" contracts over-complicates the process of consent by micro-managing every aspect of these private matters; similarly, the amount of things that can land someone on this list is truly horrifying and dehumanizing. i believe our culture's deep fear of the sexual (EVEN SAFE SEX BETWEEN CONSENTING ADULTS) is to blame for the disproportionately harsh sentences for sex charges as opposed to other crimes (some of which are far more severe in nature and scope). We should reserve the harshest punishments and social-status reduction for real threats to society--those who re-offend (ONLY 5%). The rest should be given a means of redemption to live a worthwhile existence, as most people who value life itself would choose. The Sex Offender Registry destroys lives and communities in its misguided efforts to combat rape culture.

I agree that the sex offender registry should be reformed. It does not serve its purpose in its current form.

I believe a major change is nessasary to help people that are trying to be productive law abiding citizens.
