Subject: Questions from Sammy Fretwell, The State

Rob,

I attended a conservation voters legislative briefing for senators this morning. During the session, Dana Beach called for abolishing the Infrastructure Bank and folding its duties into the S.C. Department of Transportation.

What does the governor think about this idea? Would the governor support making the bank part of the DOT?

Does the Infrastructure Bank have enough accountability?

Has it spent too much money in too few counties?

Let me know. I have a story posted on line now, but will be updating the story and would like the governor's thoughts.

Thanks,

Sammy Fretwell
