Re: Recommendation for Eric Walters

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write a letter of recommendation for Mr. Eric Walters, a hardworking student and a man of character.

Eric has always challenged himself academically, striving to exceed expectations from his teachers and dedicating countless hours to completing essays, projects, and other work. He is not only committed to his academic goals, but also to giving back to his community.

Eric serves at his church and throughout his community in multiple service programs. His ability to find a balance between academics, work, and service opportunities demonstrates that he possesses both diligence and discipline, which will make him successful at anything he puts his mind to. These skills will serve him well in his future and in all his endeavors.

I appreciate you granting Eric full consideration, and I am confident in his ability to excel.

With warmest personal regards, I remain

Sincerely,

Kevin L. Bryant
