South Carolina roads are embarrassing, dangerous and in desperate need of repair. In summary...they suck!

On Wednesday, the Senate voted to put the SCA Fix Our Roads bill up for debate this year. That means a previously dead bill is generating some serious buzz.

We are excited to be working with the South Carolina Alliance to Fix Our Roads to demand fixes to the infrastructure in our home state and people are starting to take notice. Our cool digital work is making waves in the mainstream media, but you don't have to take us on our word.

You can check it out yourself:

You are ready to start playing in 2014 instead of running your advocacy campaign like it's 2005. We know you are. So why are you waiting? Reply to this email now and let's get to work.

You can do it. Hit reply!

Sincerely,

Michael Rentiers
