My son is in the Air Force currently deployed in Qatar until Aug, I have been trying to get a renewal on his license plates for more then 2 months. It has been a nightmare. I have gotten all the information the DMV in Charleston has requested including a money order for 120.00 and his copy of title, his zero out tax receipt my durable power of attorney, his LES showing he is on active duty, and after 14 days they said they have never received the papaer work, I sen it to the South Caroline Bureau of Motor Vehicles. I am his mother and live in Indiana, I am so discusted with South Carolina right now and have cried trying to get this done. I took the money out of his account and now knbody knows what has happened to everything. I am about at the end of my nerves this should not be this difficult if they have everything and now they want more money because it is now 2 more weeks late and they want another 25.00. HELP PLEASE Susan Laurita
