Subject: Hurricane Mathew update 3 Oct 4

Good Afternoon All

Horry County is now under a significant threat that Hurricane Mathew will impact our area on Saturday. In response to that threat, Horry County will move to OPCON 3 at Noon today however, the EOC will not activate until 6 AM on Wednesday morning. Obviously there is a lot of planning at the state level, along with all coastal counties, as to what actions need to take place. We are preparing for the POSSIBILITY of the Governor issuing an order for a coastal evacuation but that has not been decided right now. We continue to participate in state conference calls and we conducted our first conference call with the local jurisdictions earlier. Our mission is to ensure all jurisdictions are on the same page should the order be issued.

Planning Issues:

EOC is preparing for activation at 6 AM in the morning. Additional actions will take place if the Governor issues an activation order.

If you have any questions, please let me know.
