If you get a chance next week...it's worth touching base with Mary Eaddy and whoever from First Steps about the remaining ICC seats. I guess it might be Krista Kustra, but if not, Dan Wuori would be the fallback. Thanks again.

Hi Heather,

Good news – the Governor signed off on the first 6 or 7 ICC appointments yesterday, so we'll be reaching out to those folks and processing the appropriate paperwork shortly.

Katie Philpott is our new Director of Boards and Commissions – I've copied her on this email. She'll work with you (and others) to fill the remaining seats on the ICC. I've given her the notes I pulled together, so she's not starting entirely from scratch.

Feel free to give Katie a call next week at (803) 201-3423 so you can get started on the remaining seats. Thanks again.

Hi Christian,

I am a little behind in the news and just discovered you will be leaving the Governor's Office. I know you will be sorely missed. I hope this message gets to you before your departure. It has just come to my attention that BabyNet received a "needs intervention" determination from the Office of Special Education programs for the 4th year in a row. I have included the determination letter and a matrix that outlines the areas of noncompliance. I just wanted to touch base with you to see who I should interact with in the Governor's Office to inquire about the status of the ICC appointments.

Thanks so much for your interest in this area and best of luck on your new adventures, whatever those may be.
Heather
