

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Message threads

Record ID: 20200501unknownMessage-threads52748_t_10100121357451314

Devils Fork/ Lake Jocassee

Participants: Skye Telka, South Carolina State Parks
at 20:49:35 on 5/01/2020 UTC

South Carolina State Parks

at 20:46:36 on 5/01/2020 UTC

Thanks for messaging us. We will get back to you as soon as possible. In the meantime, make sure to visit our website at www.SouthCarolinaParks.com for up-to-date information.

Skye Telka

at 20:46:36 on 5/01/2020 UTC

Hi there! I am confused how some of your now open locations list 100+ vehicle capacity, and yet when you go on to reserve a space, there are only 15 or so listed as available... I ask because we are hoping to drive down from Asheville, NC this weekend, and Are worried about having to wait in the car for a while if the park is already at capacity. We are, of course, planning on booking a day use parking spot beforehand, but we just want to make sure we can enjoy our time to the fullest.

South Carolina State Parks

at 20:48:54 on 5/01/2020 UTC

Which park are you referring to?

Skye Telka

at 20:49:35 on 5/01/2020 UTC

Devils Fork/ Lake Jocassee

South Carolina State Parks

at 20:50:58 on 5/01/2020 UTC

There are a limited number of sites there that are reservable. The rest of them are first-come, first-serve hence the capacity of 172 trailers, 115 single cars. We only have a limited number of sites available to there to reserve.

South Carolina State Parks

at 20:51:21 on 5/01/2020 UTC

I'm sorry --- available there to reserve.

Skye Telka

at 20:52:53 on 5/01/2020 UTC

So if we do make a reservation online beforehand, we will not be barred from entering, or have to wait until someone leaves, correct?

Skye Telka

at 20:53:19 on 5/01/2020 UTC

It would only be fore others who have not already paid if the first come, first served spots have filled up?

Skye Telka

at 20:53:25 on 5/01/2020 UTC

*for

South Carolina State Parks

at 3:05:19 on 5/02/2020 UTC

If you reserve and pay for a parking spot, that spot is guaranteed to be held for you. It is yours all day long. You will be allowed to enter.