Lauren Gross Melanie Blackak the rocky shoals spider lilies actually only grow in shallow water, but these do look SO similar 😊

at 14:59:03 on 5/30/2021 UTC

Melanie Blackak Lauren Gross Thanks for the information. I was wondering why the spider lilies at the park were growing in water and mine were ok in garden soil. Upon further research it turns out the Peruvian Daffodil is also a type of Spider Lily in the Hymenocallis family. Hence the similar flower forms and scent but different growing conditions.
