

From: Manoj Ladwa <info=indiaincorporated.com@mail176.suw18.rsgsv.net>
To: Mayer, DougDougMayer@gov.sc.gov
Date: 10/21/2016 5:02:52 AM
Subject: India Inc.: Hillary will be (just) a safer bet for India

Share this View this email in your browser

Your Weekly Briefing on the India Global Story
October 21, 2016

Comment

Hillary will be (just) a safer bet for India

So Donald Trump “is a big fan of India and a big fan of Hindu (sic)”; is he? At a gathering of about 5,000 American Indians at New Jersey’s Raritan Center, addressing what was probably the first country-specific ethno-religious rally by a US presidential hopeful, the Republican candidate promised a “phenomenal future” for Indo-US ties and said that...

Read more>>

Download PDF

Trump vs Clinton: Who could be India's next best friend? 'India Global Business' looks for the answer as part of a US Elections 2016 Special in its October edition.

Click here to login

Click here to sign up

US ELECTIONS/Interview

Running through the Obama legacy India Inc. Exclusive

Nisha Desai Biswal, Assistant Secretary of State, Bureau of South and Central Asian Affairs, US Department of State, tracks the legacy President Obama is likely to leave behind and what lies in store for India-US ties under a new leader. Read more...

US ELECTIONS/Analysis

TRUMP VS CLINTON: Who is likely to be India’s next best friend?

With just weeks to go, the search for the 45th President of the United States is getting increasingly tighter and fractious. Read more...

Flanders accelerates India toward a bright, high-tech future

Flanders is one of three official regions of Belgium in the European Union (EU). 'India Global Business' throws the spotlight on this economic powerhouse to see what it can offer Indian companies looking to set up in Europe. Read more...

Sector Focus/IT

Glorious Past, challenging present and an uncertain future?

The Indian IT sector must reskill its workforce and move up the value chain if it wants to retain its dominant position in the world as well as its double digit growth rates. Read more.

..

OPINION

---

What India wants from the next US President

by Ashok Malik, Senior Columnist

In a world where Americans seem split on the advantages of globalisation and liberal trade, we look beyond the wish-list politics of the past to see what a new American regime could mean for India. Read more...

Taking India-US ties to a new level needs a bold Indian initiative

by Dr Rajiv Kumar, Founder-Director, Pahle India Foundation

The general mood within the US has changed over the last few years, as reflected in the aggressive 'US first' stance of both candidates, argues a senior foreign policy expert. In this 'India Global Business' exclusive, he weighs up the steps India can take in the post-Obama landscape. Read more...

More from latest edition

---

- We are at a defining moment in British history: Global Indian Interview with UK's newest peer Jitesh Gadhia
- Operational mechanics for new NON-DOM laws
- India comes to grips with creating world-class universities

- India in pursuit of an ocean of Opportunities
- POST-BREXIT UK has much to gain from Indian job creation
- Who will be better for India – Hillary Clinton or Donald Trump?

*For regular access to 'India Global Business' and other India Inc. platforms, please register here

Come to an India Inc.event, email info@indiaincorporated.com
Visit: www.indiaincorporated.com

E: info@indiaincorporated.com

Copyright © 2016 India Inc Ltd All rights reserved.

---

Copyright © 2016 India Incorporated, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list