

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Timeline posts

Record ID: 20110608South-Carolina-State-ParksTimeline-posts52748_10150261781882597

South Carolina State Parks published a note.

at 1:12:18 on 6/08/2011 UTC ·

TIDBIT TUESDAY -- Dragonflies

Devon Jeremy VERY interesting. Thanks for posting, and SO GLAD we have lots of 'em in our yard!

at 1:18:58 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Donna Ann Brewer I love how they land on us when we are paddling down the Edisto! They seem so magical. One time we where throwing small bits of grape and they were chasing and attacking the bits. It was so cool.

at 1:36:11 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Terry Ratchford Fox hey thanks! They sit on my big toe when I'm on the raft in the pool and won't fly away.

at 1:37:53 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Little River Blueway Interesting post... Always see lots of dragon flies paddling along the Little River Blueway back into the Baker Creek State Park cove and creek.

at 1:54:03 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Bea Weicksel Murdaugh They have such beautiful colors and different sizes that I can help but think that there are differnt breeds. With as many as there are at Santee SP I wish they would show us where the fish are biting.

at 2:55:50 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Rachael Ann Para They eat mosquito! enough said!

at 15:44:51 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Laura Kirk and yellow flies! which I greatly appreciate as I bike around Lee State Park

at 17:15:26 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Wendy Weeks Never knew "devil's darning needle" was another name...had heard of mosquito hawk...Dragonflies are magical!!

at 18:06:33 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Jane Kirk There will be a time this summer when it's risky to go for a walk but they have great radar

at 18:39:39 on 6/08/2011 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton There are so many beautiful dragonflies hanging out around our pond. They go crazy in the mist when I water my plants. You can tell they enjoy the mist and the interaction. They are very entertaining!

at 23:24:51 on 6/08/2011 UTC