As a private African American that has always lived in the North. The symbol of the Confederate Flag on public grounds to me represented Hatred, Slavery and the contradiction of freedom in a hope that it would come back. For some reason 150 years after the fact it was settled in a war that killed 632,000 people in 4 years, in American history that is more than all the death toll of Americans of all the other wars combine. You signing that bill to take the Confederate Flag down was an uplifting and rejoying event. Something that had to do it and it took a woman to do it. Thanks. I've have met too many nice people from South Carolina in my 65 years to know the confederate Flag on the capital build was enforce by a small minority in powerful places. Thanks
