GOVERNORS BEWARE!

YOUR STATE IS UNDER SIEGE!

OUR NATIONAL SECURITY IS IN GRAVE DANGER!

$50 billion spent on global warming hoax – replaces spending Southern Border Fence. Where did $50 billion go? Not to your state!

Did you know Department of Homeland Security Secretary, Jeh Johnson, CIA Director John Brennan, and Sec. of Defense Chuck Hagel, are all believed to be Muslim Converts working with the Muslim Brotherhood, as well as Obama advisor, Valerie Jarrett, born a Muslim in Iran and lived there for the first five years of her life. We must ask if they are there to help Obama take America for Allah?????

- Do you know where Johnson's Refugee Resettlement Camps are in your state?*
- Did you know the U N is directing the Mid East Muslim invasion to the state of the U N's choice, under the direction of the Hillary Clinton/John Kerry State Department, DHS's Jeh Johnson and HHS secretary, Kathleen Sibelius? 60,000 Syrians to North Carolina. (get the facts on insightusa.us*
- Did you know the Congress has placed our nation in grave danger by not enforcing our laws and building the fence & Exit System funded in 2006 on our Southern border? Instead, they supported a propaganda campaign using ( Hispanic Paul Revere,) Marco Rubio, to divert attention from building a fence to secure our border, upholding our Constitution and enforcing our Laws with an outcry "that the system is broken."*
- Did Rubio get millions for handing Obama an Amnesty bill he did not co author or read? Did Rubio commit perjury? This bill is what Obama needs to take over our nation with a one party system and place the flag of Islam over our White House. Boehner has promised to give Obama an Amnesty bill! Only the governors can stop this!*

wicked scheme. Just imagine, America, the super power, becoming a Republic of Islam in plain sight! God forbid! Ask, "who is stopping it"?

Even after the recent invasion of 60,000, the "useless" Congress ignores their Constitutional duty to defend and protect us from enemies both foreign and domestic. Just days ago, four members of ISIS were apprehended by the national guard Gov. Perry sent to the border.

ISIS is a rebranding of the Muslim Brother Hood. That is all. Don't be tricked by Baf oons (Bafel-Loons) in high places.

Jeh Johnson is a front for the Muslim Brotherhood and is placing this nation in grave danger. He must be removed from office. There is one problem, the "useless" members of Congress are on another seven week vacation. We must not re elect these incompetent politicians. Fifty million Christians need to register to vote and defy all traitors now in Congress.

Our safety, security and sovereignty are in the hands of our God and our governors.

Please join Gov. Perry today and send your national guard to our Southern border. Have your attorney general file lawsuits that will abort Johnson's latest plot to assist Obama in his final transformation process to take over our government by overwhelming invasions of illegals.

After reading the latest warning below, go to INSIGHTUSA.US and read locations of illegal detention centers nationwide for last invaders and don't miss where Johnson has secretly placed millions of Muslim refugees from Mid East nations sponsoring terrorism brought into this nation since 2012.

While Obama pulls off another dog and pony show photo opt pretending he is declaring war on ISIL, Johnson continues bringing America under submission to Allah.

All of this while Congress parties and Sec. Kerry and Hillary use another ploy, like the "video" caused the death of four Americans in Benghazi or "the system is broken".....

The "look the other way" mantra today is:

"Global Warming" is the world's biggest threat, not "Islamic barbaric jihadists".

Another Cover Up: $50 billion in 18 agencies appropriated by "useless" Congress and none is accounted for. How much is in coffers of Bill Clinton and Obama donors? Where is the oversight? Another lie, another heist

Federal Government to Allow Deported Illegals to Return to U.S.

In a settlement reached with plaintiffs represented by the ACLU on August 20, the federal government agreed to allow some illegal immigrants who returned to Mexico under the government's "Voluntary Return" program to return to the United States.

The ACLU filed a class-action lawsuit, Lopez-Venegas v. Johnson, on June 4, 2013 on behalf of eleven illegal immigrants who had deported themselves under the "Voluntary Return" program, as well as three Southern California immigrants' rights organizations. (The "Johnson" named as defendant is Secretary of Homeland Security Jeh Johnson. When originally filed, the suit named Johnson's predecessor, Janet Napolitano, as the primary defendant. Officials with U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, and the Border Patrol were also named as defendants.)

Breitbart reported that the settlement reached on August 20 will cover only "longtime California residents with relatives who are U.S. citizens and ... young migrants whose parents brought them into the country illegally" who deported themselves between 2009 and 2013.

According to the settlement, the federal government, by advertising online, in print, on billboards, and on radio stations, will attempt to reach "friends and family of the affected class" in Southern California and Mexico to inform them about this change in policy.

Through the agreement reached with the ACLU initially covers only nine Mexicans who claim they were "tricked" into signing fast-track "voluntary return" deportation agreements after 2009, it also establishes a legal precedent that the ACLU can use to claim that millions of other illegals were also improperly sent home under the "voluntary return" policy.

The ACLU summarized the agreement on its website, noting that under its terms, government officials must:

1. Provide detailed information — in writing, orally, and through a 1-800 hotline — regarding the consequences of taking "voluntary return" to non-citizens asked to choose between "voluntary return" and a hearing before a judge;
2. Cease "pre-checking" the box selecting "voluntary return" on the forms the agencies provide to non-citizens;
3. Permit non-citizens to use a working phone, provide them with a list of legal service providers, and allow them two hours to reach someone before deciding whether to accept "voluntary return";
4. Provide lawyers meaningful access to clients detained by Border Patrol or ICE;
5. Cease pressuring or coercing individuals to accept "voluntary return"; and
6. Allow ACLU attorneys to monitor compliance with the settlement agreement for three years.

The ACLU writes: "The settlement also includes provisions that, if approved by the court, would allow some of the hundreds of thousands of Mexican nationals who have been expelled from the United States pursuant to unlawful 'voluntary returns' to reunite with their families here."

The ACLU's reference to "hundreds of thousands of Mexican nationals" underscores the magnitude of the illegal immigration problem. As we have reported recently, the massive numbers of immigrants from Central America who have illegally crossed our border, including an estimated 60,000 children unaccompanied by parents or relatives who will pour into the United States this year, have completely overwhelmed our immigration courts.

Testifying before the Senate Homeland Security Committee studying the illegal immigration crisis on July 9, Juan Osuna, director of the Executive Office of Immigration Review at the Department of Justice, said, "We are facing the largest caseload that the agency has ever seen."

Judge Dana Leigh Marks of San Francisco, who has been deciding immigration cases since 1987 and is president of the National Association of Immigration Judges, was quoted in a July 22 Reuters report: "We are reaching a point of implosion, if we have not already reached it."

Reuters noted that Marks, who is one of the 243 judges presiding over 59 immigration courts in the United States, is setting hearing dates as far in the future as 2018.

One can only imagine what effect the settlement reached under Lopez-Venegas v. Johnson will have on our already-overburdened immigration courts. Perhaps the solution is to make deportation no longer "voluntary."

Someone needs to inform Jeh Johnson illegals breaking into our nation have no Constitutional rights.

Go to insightusa.us and meet Valerie Jarrett, Chuck Hagel, Jeh Johnson and John Brennan.

Action needed now.
