Dear Mr. Tomlin:

Thank you for your supportive letter about my comments on Learning in America. I'm glad you watched and enjoyed the program.

I am very proud of progress we've made in education in Arkansas, but we still must raise teacher salaries to a competitive level, so this issue remains paramount in Arkansas and in the nation. Tax increases are never popular, but I believe the people want the best educational opportunities for our children.

Thank you too for your encouragement that I run for national office. If I ever do that, I hope I can still count on your support.

Sincerely,

Bill Clinton

RE: Inaugural invitations – gubernatorial and etc :) 12/28/2014

Dear Gov. Haley, [PS for later: Rhetorical Education]

Once upon a time, the year Taylor Swift was born, :)
I exchanged letters with another governor . . . and so got an invitation to his 4th Inaugural Ball...

YESTERDAY, I found I'd received such an invitation from you,
BUT I hadn't written you the letter I've been thinking about since 2012 – only the second in my life – to someone who
I know has the most natural gifts to lead the nation.

(It is a beautiful coincidence to me that a speech by the aforementioned governor's wife inspired you to 1st run.)

My letter to Gov. Clinton was '89. Elected president in '92. ;)
(Also nice coincidence: Taylor Swift's new album is titled "1989", and FYI: I can perform its 16 songs [+27 more] with an acoustic guitar. :)

FOR NOW I'll just say, I expect to see YOU in the White House
(and in the meantime ... if you'd like any Taylor Swift song singalongs at Inaugural things [Family Night or Ball:]) or etc etc, let me know. ;)

Most sincerely,

PPS Trust me on this: 2016 should be race between two women.
