"Canvasbacks in Flight"

The 2019-20 South Carolina Migratory Waterfowl Print features commissioned artist Jim Killen's original work of art. The Duck Stamp and Print program, now in its 39th year, is administered by the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources.

An avid sportsman, Jim inspires natural resources and wildlife conservation through his remarkable talents as an artist. His art resonates with a large following of outdoor enthusiasts and will endure as long as people treasure their dogs, gamebirds and waterfowl, and the unspoiled places that bring them all together. He spends hours with his camera recording the beauty and serenity of the great outdoors. Jim feels there is something very special about the sporting dog breeds — their energy, spirit and unwavering loyalty. He hopes his paintings will bring back memories of those great days with your dog and the unforgettable look of pride when their job is well done!

His successful career, spanning more than forty years, includes numerous honors such as being named Ducks Unlimited Artist of the Year three times and more than twenty state conservation stamp awards. His art has generated millions of dollars for numerous conservation and state organizations.

Born and raised in Minnesota, the pheasant fields and prairie potholes inspired him to strive to preserve these gifts of nature for future generations. Jim applies land stewardship practices at home as well. His studio overlooks 160 acres of land that he developed into a wildlife management area focusing on waterfowl, pheasant, wild turkey and deer.
