Good afternoon Lieutenant Governors,

As you know, Kim Reynolds was sworn in yesterday as the new Governor of Iowa. Today, she announced that state public defender Adam Gregg will be her new Lt. Governor.

Some ways you can support the new Republican team in Iowa:

1. Send a congratulatory tweet to @KimReynoldsIA
2. Send a tweet to promote her roll out video on the dotGOP platform at KimReynolds.GOP or RT this:

3. Welcome Adam Gregg as the newest Republican Lt. Governor via his twitter @IALtGov

Please note that because the Democrat Attorney General changed his opinion on their state succession plans, new Lt. Governor Gregg will hold the office and perform its functions but not be in the formal line to succeed Governor Reynolds should a vacancy occur before the election in November 2018. You can read more via the Des Moines Register here.

Thank you for all you do!

Kind regards,

Natalie Oliver
