Dear Governor Haley:

River Bluff High School in Lexington, SC, would like to invite you to an evening hosted by forty-four seniors currently enrolled in our Teacher Cadet course.

While only some hope to become classroom teachers, all have learned to become education advocates. Using their own experiences and research through case studies, our Cadets have learned about challenges and triumphs our students and their teachers face every day in the SC public school system.

In preparation for their learning exhibition, they were assigned the original guiding question, "What makes students lose their enthusiasm for learning?" The task of the Cadets has been to determine one reason this occurs and feasible, inexpensive solutions -- all of which will be presented from 6:30-8:00 p.m. on May 18. Guests may attend as many or as few of the 15-minute sessions as time allows as long as they return a feedback form to our Cadets after they attend each session.

We hope you can find time in your very busy schedule to hear the findings of our future leaders - especially from a school close to home.

Thank you in advance for your support for our students as they address strengths and needs in South Carolina's public schools.

Sincerely,
Beth Moore
