Resolution*

Members of the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education join with others in the State and nation in mourning the tragic loss of life in the shuttle Challenger disaster on January 28, 1986, noting that among the seven persons who died were Dr. Ronald E. McNair, a native of Lake City, South Carolina, and Ms. Christa McAuliffe, a Concord, New Hampshire, high school teacher who would have been the first private citizen to fly in space. We extend our sympathy and condolences to the families of Dr. McNair and Ms. McAuliffe and to the families of the other five members of the Challenger crew.
